FROM THE DESK OF PRINCIPAL

Interest cannot be taught; it has to be inspired...right from the beginning.

Children are ready and eager to learn as much as they can about the world around them, about themselves as a part of the world, and about other children. One of our most important tasks is to keep this intense curiosity and deep thirst for knowledge alive.

The years between ages 3 to 5 are foundational years, as during this time the child is growing rapidly, both physically and mentally. The child is constantly assimilating new experiences and using these to form the person he or she will become in future years.

We provide a secure, stimulating and supportive environment for children where learning takes place and creative expression is encouraged. We encourage children to make meaningful choices and share responsibilities as they move through the learning process.

The curriculum for 'SANSKAR' is well suited to the 3 to 5 year olds, meeting their needs and level of readiness. Teachers help children to learn through playing and other activities. These activities include core subjects Language, Arts, Mathematics, Social Studies and science. In addition we offer physical education including Yoga, Dance, Computer, Music, Drama and Library time. The children also have the opportunity to express themselves on paper with paints and crayons in artworks of many kinds. The children are involved a great deal in, make believe play that gives them the opportunity to use their initiative, to think, to plan, to develop their attention span, and to build their capacity for solving problems. Play is an essential component in the curriculum as it enables children to make meaning of their environment through real life and imaginary activities.

Our aim is to provide students with knowledge and positive attitude, which prepare them for participation in the affairs for life to the maximum of each student's capacity. moreover, to enable students to acquire skills, knowledge and understanding through and activity based learning programme. This is best achieved within a safe, nurturing and creative environment.

We believe that each student should be valued and enabled to discover and appreciate who he or she is, what he or she may become and that they can make valuable contributions to the family, school, and the nation.
